About the Centre

The Centre was established in July 2016. The Centre is dedicated to the exploration, preservation, and dissemination of Bharat's rich and diverse knowledge systems. Our goal is to create a dynamic and inclusive environment where the ancient systems of Indian traditions meet contemporary thought promoting holistic development and global harmony and also to create an understanding of the distinction between Dharma and Religion.

The Centre for the Study of Comparative Religions and Civilizations is one of the very few institutions of its kind in this country. The Centre offers a Master's program in Comparative Religions and Civilizations which was recently started. Earlier it offered PG diploma courses in Kashmir Saivism, Indian Mystical Thought, Indian Script Brahmi and Sharda. The Centre is also offering a Ph.D. research program. The Centre has a team of six highly qualified and experienced faculty members with varied fields of research areas.

Vision

To empower faculty to understand the importance of Indian Knowledge System and their inclusion in higher education.

About the Program

The Faculty Development Program (FDP) on inclusion of Indian Knowledge System (IKS) in higher education aims to foster a deeper understanding and appreciation of India's rich intellectual heritage among educators.
